■ Exchange Student from the United States of America

Mito is a great city if you're looking for a bit more personal and traditional environment than Tokyo, yet it's close enough to make day/weekend trips a breeze! The small class sizes and student buddies make learning Japanese language and culture really fun, and in the three months I've been here I've made so many friends and mentors. I would recommend the program at Ibaraki University to anyone looking for a truly unique experience in Japan.
