

Admission Requirements of Imam Khomeini International University

For International Students

Imam Khomeini International University accepts international students from non-Iranian applicants in the offered fields of study on the basis of the following conditions and in two forms of scholarship and non-scholarship:

1. Scholarship

This type of admission includes applicants who have had their age and academic level approved by the Ministry of Science, Research and Technology and based on the quota of each country and capacity of each field. The university sends the cases of qualified applicants to the Ministry of Science to be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee. After admission, the applicants are introduced to the University with a letter of acceptance to continue their studies.

This scholarship includes two types: scholarship type (A) and type (B). In the former case, not only will the student study for free in the University, but will also be awarded a grant within their authorized period of study. In the latter case, the courses are free but without any grants.

Note 1: Under the Scholarship Student Admission Regulations of the Ministry of Science, the minimum Grade Point Average (GPA) required of the applicants are 14 for undergraduate and Master's levels, and 16 for PhD level, while the priority of admission is based on the quota and capacity of each country.

Note 2: Scholarship age conditions are as follows: The maximum age limit for the undergraduate level is 22, for master's degree is 26 and for PhD is 31. For the fields of Persian language and literature, and theology, the maximum limits are increased by 2. For applicants who have recently graduated, the age limit is not considered.

Note 3: Imam Khomeini International University, intends to offer scholarships (in addition to the scholarships from the Ministry of Science) each year, according to its statute, for a limited number of applicants in undergraduate, postgraduate, and PhD levels during the allowed period of study. This scholarship consists of a full-scholarship (free) and an educational scholarship (exempt from tuition fees only).

2. Non-scholarship

Applicants, who do not qualify for a scholarship, may submit their application for this type of admission to the university based on the statute of acceptance for non-scholarship students. These students must pay tuition fees for each semester in accordance with the decision of the University Board of Trustees. For more information, see the tuition fees section.

Note 4: The minimum Grade Point Average (GPA) required of the applicants are 13 for undergraduate, 14 for Master, and 16 for PhD level, while the priority of admission is based on the quota and capacity of each country.
