ACP INTERNATIONAL FIELD STUDY 2025

WE ARE ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS!

The ACP International Field Study 2025 is a dynamic, multidisciplinary, and immersive two-week academic and cultural exchange program, bringing together passionate students and young leaders from across ASEAN and Japan. Hosted by Universiti Utara Malaysia (UUM), this field study experience is designed to empower participants with real-world understanding of disaster risk reduction (DRR), while cultivating cross-cultural collaboration and leadership skills.

Participants will engage in a thoughtfully curated journey that includes:

- ✓ Visits to heritage and civil defense institutions in Penang
- ✓ Academic sessions and field-based learning at UUM
- ✓ Hands-on activities and simulation drills with disaster education stakeholders
- ✓ Collaborative poster presentations and thematic group projects
- ✓ Cultural immersion experiences

 Program Date
20 AUG - 3 SEPT 2025

 Location:
UNIVERSITI UTARA MALAYSIA

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- Promote cross-cultural understanding through immersive activities and collaboration between ASEAN and Japanese students.
- Strengthen knowledge and practical skills in Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) through field visits, workshops, and real-time drills.
- Encourage creative solutions and teamwork in addressing regional disaster challenges through youth-led group projects.
- Provide a platform for youth voices in policy and education dialogue through presentations and conferences.
- Celebrate cultural diversity and build lasting international friendships through shared experiences and performances.
