

TERMS & CONDITIONS

A. COMPETITION DETAILS

1. Participation Format

- Participants may join the competition individually or in pairs (maximum two members per team)
- All team members must meet the age and student status requirements at the time of registration.

2. Language

All submissions must be in English only.

3. Video Duration

The video should be between 3 to 5 minutes in length.

4. Video Content & Focus

Participants are encouraged to apply original thinking, creativity, and innovation in developing their idea and producing a short video. The video should present a clear and compelling solution that addresses real-world environmental, social, or economic challenges within the palm oil industry.

5. Originality

- All submissions must be the original work of the participant(s).
- Entries must not infringe on any copyright, trademark, or intellectual property rights of others.
- Any background music or visuals used must be royalty-free.
- The organisers will not be held responsible for any legal claims resulting from copyright violations.

6. Content Restrictions

Submissions must not contain any content that may be deemed offensive, including content that is racist, religiously sensitive, culturally inappropriate, or defamatory to any individual or leader. Any submission that violates this rule may be disqualified.

7. Publication Limitation

Submitted videos must not be published or shared publicly (e.g. social media, websites, or YouTube) without prior approval from the organiser.

8. Exclusivity

Submissions must not have been previously submitted to other national or international video competitions. Breach of this condition will result in disqualification.

B. COPYRIGHT & USAGE RIGHTS

1. Usage Rights

The organizer reserves the right to use submitted videos (in whole or in part) for purposes of promoting palm oil awareness, including in publications, exhibitions, educational activities, and social media campaigns.

2. Editing & Reproduction

The organizer reserves the right to edit or adapt submitted videos for purposes such as research, education, broadcasting, and promotional campaigns related to palm oil.
